PROTESTS ON STREETWORK NUMEROUS IN CITY COUNCIL

Paving on Richmond and Main Avenues Declared Unsatisfactory By Host of Protestants at Meeting Last Night.

Arnold Complains, Cutting Complains, Land Company Complains and Twenty-four Others Do the Same.

Protests against the assessments for the improvement of lower Richmond avenue, done by the Worswick Street Paving Company, were filed last night with the city council by Wm. O. Arnold, H. C. Cutting and the Point Richmond Canal and Land Company.

A protest with 24 signatures was also filed with the council declaring that the street improvement work on Main avenue, done by James Rutherford, is unsatisfactory. The protestants did not specify in what respect the work does not suit them.

The council set Dec. 23 as the date for a hearing of the protestants in both cases.

Wm. O. Arnold stated in his protest that he paid an assessment of $433.15 in July as his share for the improvement of lower Richmond avenue and that on November 20 he received an additional bill for $16.51, which he declares is "illegal and incorrect."

The Cutting complaint sets forth a multitude of reasons why the assessment for the improvement of Richmond avenue, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alvarado streets and Buena Vista and Nevada avenues and Choice way, should not be paid. Among other things it is alleged "that the work has not been performed according to the contract, or in good and substantial manner," and that "the work was not done according to specifications."

They claim that the grade of Richmond avenue is too high to receive sewer connections from their property. Also that Richmond avenue is not located so as to separate the properties of the protestants from the property of the John Nicholl Company, as was originally agreed.

BISSEL PAVING ROW AGAIN BOBS UP IN COUNCIL

Daniel Barton Repeats Request to Analyse Pavement Last Night.

Adds to First Petition That He Wants to Analyse Work Done on Twelfth Street.

Daniel Barton, who two weeks ago was denied by the council the privilege of taking up a section of the paving at the corner of Tenth and Bissell to have it analyzed, last night appeared before the council and repeated his request. He said he would agree to have the paving replaced in good shape.

He also asked the privilege of taking samples of the paving and sidewalks on Twelfth street, 100 feet north of Barrett, to have it analyzed. His request was referred to the street committee, city engineer and city attorney.

Barton precipitated a wordy battle by referring to work of the Municipal Improvement Company as work done by the Barber Asphalt Co. Councilman Follett informed him that the two companies were not the same. Barton expressed a large sized doubt. Follett said it had been sworn to on several occasions that they are not the same.

Barton said he wanted samples to see if they were up to specifications. Follett declared it would not be a fair test to take up one small section and suggested that if the council grant Barton's request it should specify that samples be taken from several different places in the street in the presence of the city engineer and that the city be allowed to keep samples of what Barton took for analysis.

Barton is one of a number of property owners who have refused to pay their assessments for the paving of the intersections of Bissell avenue. In his desire to have the pavement analyzed he acts only for himself, he has said.

OAKLAND, Dec. 14.—Diseased pigs will hereafter be painted a bright green in accordance with an order issued by Police Chief Peterson.

No Wonder Greco Mixed the Shoes

MARRIAGE LICENSE EXPLAINS COBBLER'S ABSENT-MINDED MISTAKE IN SWAPPING WOMAN'S FOOTWEAR.

Ordinarily a man doesn't get the old shoes thrown at him until he starts on the honeymoon. But a shoe shower came pretty near being due Frank Greco, shoemaker, near Sixth and Macdonald, last Saturday night.

When Mrs. W. M. Bullock, 227 South Eighth street, put on a pair of shoes Bullock had repaired for her, she found they were not her own. A frantic search by Greco, who was just about to call Chief Walker's sleuths on the case, ended when Mrs. Richard Williams, 641 Fifth street, came back with a pair of shoes that were not hers.

Greco tags all shoes carefully with an identification slip, but on Saturday night every pair he looked at had "Rose Danna" on it in letters a foot high. Greco had just purchased a marriage license to wed Miss Danna, a popular girl of the Santa Fe district. The wedding ceremony will be performed the first Sunday of next month.

FOUR WHALES ON RAMPAGE.

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 14.—Four whales tore out the pilings of the old Port Los Angeles pier.

WOMAN IS BADLY BURNED BY OIL BLAZE IN HOME

Mrs. Benjamin Board, 628 Second Street, Starts a Fire With Coal Oil and Goes to the Hospital.

Flames Are Extinguished Before the House Is Damaged—Chief Takes Her to Doctor in Automobile.

When Mrs. Benjamin Board, 628 Second street, poured coal oil in the kitchen stove yesterday afternoon preparatory to cooking the evening meal, the oil can exploded and she was painfully borned on the face and left arm.

An alarm was turned in from box 432, but the flames were immediately extinguished and there was nothing for the department to do when it arrived.

Chief Le Moine raced Mrs. Board in his automobile to the Craven hospital, where Dr. Carpenter treated the burns, and the fire chief returned her to her home.

Though the burns are painful, it is not thought that Mrs. Board will be scarred.

SERVIANS RETAKE BELGRADE IN FURIOUS FIGHT, ALLIES WINNING

LONDON, Dec. 15.—After fierce battle the Servians have reoccupied Belgrade, says a dispatch to Rueter's Telegraph Co. Austria has admitted defeat, declaring that her troops were forced to fall back before a greatly superior force.

"Our advance was not only stopped," says the report, "but we were compelled to make extended retirements before the enemy."

The Servians are pressing their victory and are taking many prisoners and are said to have driven the Austrians back across the river.

PARIS—In Belgium, along the Lorraine frontier in front of Metz and in Alsace the French have again forced the Germans back. A violent cannonade against the German position on the heights along the Meuse river early this morning brought no response. Aeroplanes were sent up and brought back reports that the enemy had abandoned their position.

Incendiary Makes Attempt to Burn School Building

When Superintendent of Schools Helms entered the closet of the office in the Washington school yesterday morning he found unmistakable traces of an attempt to set fire to the building.

Two files of bills and other papers had been burned to ashes and only the fact that there is no ventilation in the closet prevented the entire destruction of the $80,000 structure.

The papers must have been set afire, it is thought, by the person who entered the school Thanksgiving night and stole about $2 in small change.

That, angered at his failure to get anything of much value, he set fire to the papers in the office in the hopes of destroying the building, is the belief of the authorities. After putting a match to the mass of paper the incendiary must have slammed the door as he left the closet.

The closet is seldom entered, as the papers filed there are not often referred to.

HOUSE IN DANGER OF COLLAPSE TO BE REPAIRED

In response to a notification that her house on Scenic avenue is in an unsafe condition, a letter from Mrs. Jennie Youngman at Santa Monica was last night read to the council, in which she stated she had paid to have the house strengthened with underpinning.

Chief Le Moine and Councilman Fernald reported they had examined the house yesterday and found it in danger of sliding into the street at the first heavy rain and a menace to other property in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Youngman will be ordered to have the building put in safe condition.

BIG MONTH FOR CANAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—Last month San Francisco shipped $5,000,000 worth of freight through the Panama Canal to Eastern markets. This is an increase of about 50 per cent over November of 1913, when freight went by railroad over the Isthmus.

PAVING ROCK IS DRY CLAY, STATEMENT TO COUNCIL

Make Demand That All Pavement Put Down on Twenty-third Street Be Torn Up and Done Over.

Protest Is Filed, But Council Orders Work Stopped Until "Rattler" Test Is Made—30 Per Cent Rotten, Says Penry.

By vote of the city council last night, no more work will be done on the paving of Twenty-third avenue until the city engineer has received the report on the rattler test of samples of the rock used by the Ransome-Crummey Co.

A protest was read from the John Nicholl Company, declaring that part of the paving base already put in on Twenty-third contains "dried clay" instead of rock and demanding that the entire amount already in be torn out and done over with better material.

City Engineer Chapman reported he had sent samples of the rock to Oakland to be tested last week, but that the Oakland people had not yet had time to do the work. He said he thought the test would be made today.

Councilmen who have looked at the Twenty-third street rock differed in their opinions of it. Follett said there were some soft pieces, but that the body of the rock was good. He said some of the blue rock turned red after the rain, but there was nothing wrong with it. Penry said he could break the red rock and that it looked to him like 30 or 35 per cent of the material on the ground was not fit to be used in pavement.

Councilman Lane declared the work should not be allowed to proceed until the rock has been tested. This was agreed. Nicholl's protest was filed.

SUBMIT BIDS FOR PAVEMENT

The following bids were last night received by the council for the paving of Seventh street:

L. L. Page, $11,123; C. W. McMaster, $10,589; E. H. Higgins, $11,555; S. C. Rogers, $11,277; John Word, $11,238; Galbraith & Janes, $10,946; G. W. Cushing, $11,248.

The award of contract was postponed until the treasurer has examined the bonds offered by the bidders.

FIRE TRAP IS ORDERED RAZED

The city council last night condemned a house on the south side of Macdonald avenue, opposite Bay street. It is the property of Mrs. Bertha La Selle. Chief Le Moine reported it to be in a dilapidated condition and a fire menace.

SHERIDAN ARRIVES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—With nearly 700 passengers, including 450 troops, the transport Sheridan arrived here this morning.

WOODEN POLES CALLED MENACE

The suggestion that wooden trolley poles in Richmond be replaced by iron poles was last night made by the city officials by Councilman Picton. Fire Chief Le Moine reported a number of telegraph and traction poels that are in the street, declaring them a menace to vehicular travel.

Picton recommended that the street car company be asked to replace its wooden poles as rapidly as they wear out, with iron.

STEGE RESIDENT ONE OF THE 52

J. H. PICKETT WAS PASSENGER ON OREGON EXPRESS AT VACCINATION BEE.

J. H. Pickett of Stege was one of the 52 passengers of the Oregon Express that had to submit to being vaccinated by Dr. J. H. Gillehan when the train pulled into Oakland Saturday. A conductor was taken with smallpox on the trip down. The news was flashed to Oakland, where policemen and the doctor were commissioned to see that not one passenger get away without being vaccinated. Pickett is sorry he didn't get off when the train stopped in Richmond.

WIFE OF BLIND VETERAN ELOPES WITH HUBBY NO. 1

The sheriff of Napa has been asked by Harvey Fowler, a blind veteran of the Civil War ann former Richmond resident, to arrest Mrs. Fowler, who is said to have eloped with Ambrose Grow of Napa. Grow was Mrs. Fowler's husband before her marriage to the veteran in 1907.

Last Monday Fowler was removed to the hospital to have an operation performed on his eyes, in the hope of restoring the sight. The next day, Fowler declares, his wife disappeared and with her $48, all the money in the house.

Mrs. Fowler, it is claimed, supported her husband by taking in washing.

WHAT CAME OF IT.

A plan to reclaim a million acres of desert land and turn it over in small farms to the unemployed of California is being considered by the California State Conservation Commission.

The land is in San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial counties and is owned by the United States government. It is proposed to have California take it over under the provisions of the Carey act, which provides that any state may take over federal land by putting it under cultivation.

Governor Johnson has declared himself heartily in favor with the plan and no opposition is expected when it is placed before the Legislature.

Whatever objections can be made to the plan, there is an interesting feature to the fact that it is being seriously considered.

When the unemployed organized in San Francisco one heard little said in their behalf. People said they were lazy, most of them incompetent, and all of them highly unrespectable, dirty, no-account bums. It is certain that a number of them were "unemployables" and just as certain that all of them were dirty. The proposed march to Washington seemed the ravings of cranks. Their titles of general and major and captain and their marching the streets day after day seemed silly and futile.

And now we find vigorous efforts to relieve the unemployed situation as much as possible being made by commissions and officials.

So the bums that made the ridiculous demonstration in front of the governor's house and who made a failure of their trans-continental hike seem to have accomplished something after all. Those who timidly made the suggestion that some good might come from the organizing of the army last winter were laughed at.

PASS THE SALT, PLEASE.

People that read the war news have learned to take "official" news with reservations. Too often have the allies claimed victories only to admit a few days later that the Germans have advanced. And just as often the Germans have claimed victories that later read suspiciously like defeats.

So the news from Berlin that the members of the Socialist party are angry at the party leader, Carl Liebknecht, in voting against the war credit on December 10, should also be taken with a large sized grain of salt. It may be true and it may not.

It is to the government's interest to say that the German Social Demokrats are thoroughly in accord with the government and that fact very probably colors the official reports emanating from Berlin.

LETTER DAY.

Today is letter day. Don't forget to send at least one letter and as many more as possible.

If there is some one, relative or friend, living east of the Nevada line that you have not written to for months or years, write to them today.

And write to your Eastern friends and relatives to whom you owe no letter. Just remind them that the fair will soon open, and that you can guarantee it the greatest exposition the world has ever seen.

Writing the letters doesn't necessarily mean that you should invite them all to live with you while they are here.

Write a little postscript telling them of our excellent hotels.

BURLESON'S REPORT.

To those who scoff at government ownership, who talk of the efficiency of private ownership and the certain inefficiency of public ownership of great industries, Postmaster-General Burleson's annual report should have been dedicated.

The report estimates that the surplus for 1914 will be $3,569,545, when all claims and charges have been met. On that showing he bases his declaration that the department "has been securely placed upon a self-sustaining basis."

A Bachelor's Complaint

By F. A. MITCHEL

I am a bachelor, and I propose to remain a bachelor. Heaven forbid that I should be tied by unbreakable chains to one of those paradoxical, unreasonable, illogical creatures, a woman.

Why my bosom friend, Jim Brown, had to put a firebrand between himself and me I can't imagine. We were inseparable. I never felt at home with any other person as with him, and without me he did not know what to do with himself. Suddenly there popped up between us—what? Clothes—many clothes, clothes varying in cut with every season. And within these clothes was a woman.

There is nothing unreasonable about me. I would have been perfectly willing that Jim should go to see this much adorned grownup child once a week and stay till 3 in the morning if he liked. I certainly would never have thought of being jealous of one who is not endowed with a spark of manliness. But she was not satisfied with this. She wanted him all the time. And Jim, poor beggar, was so under her thumb that she did what she liked with him.

Then she must needs nag at him to bring me to see her. Why she wished to meet me was a puzzle. I certainly had no desire to meet her. "Do bring your friend. He must be a lovely man since you are so fond of him." And Jim was fool enough to believe that she wanted to meet me because I was "a lovely man."

Just as soon as they were engaged there was friction as to the evenings she wanted Jim and those I wanted him. I, being a reasonable creature, was willing to divide Jim's evenings with her. Not so she. If Jim made an engagement with me she would make him break it.

Despite all this pulling and hauling for Jim's companionship, he must bring that "lovely" friend of his to see her. I refused to go. This frightened Jim, for he said that it would create an enmity between her and me that would be unpleasant all round. I gave in to Jim—not to her.

Considering what she wanted me for, her treatment of me was remarkable. You would have thought she was in love with me instead of Jim. "I'm awfully glad to see you!" she said, all smiles. "I've heard so much about you that it seems I have known you a long while. You have no idea how fond Jim is of you. You must come and see me often. Any one that Jim speaks of so highly must be very nice."

If you had heard the intonation she gave the words "very nice" you would have realized the irony between the beginning and ending of this sentence.

Mind you, I didn't see through all this then. I confess I was fooled while she was showing plainly that she had an object in fooling me. No one but a woman can coddle a man and let him know that she is stuffing him without repelling him. Instead of repelling she winds him round her finger while she is feeding him poison.

But I know it all now. Jim was married, and when he returned from his wedding trip he tried to grasp my hand with fervor, but it was not the same fervor as before. I knew that I had been supplanted, and, more than this, I knew that his wife had undermined his good opinion of me. Then it became apparent why she wished Jim to bring me to see her. She couldn't attack one she had never seen, or if she did her onslaught would have had no weight. She must have something tangible to attack.

"So this is the wonderful man," I doubt not she said after seeing me, "that you have been lauding to the skies. Why did he not say some of those bright things that you have so often spoken of? Didn't feel well enough acquainted? I suppose I shall have to wait till he does. Some day when he feels more at home here I presume he will deluge us with his wit."

What a melancholy awakening Jim must have had after this first inspection by his ladylove of his bosom friend to discover that I was after all a commonplace person! And how singular it is that these creatures, who do not know the difference between a syllogism and sole leather, can produce on a man of intellectual vigor the effect they require by mere irony! Jim had known me intimately for years, and yet by a few words a woman had shattered his idol.

Jim has a relapse occasionally and drops into my room for a bit of "old times," as he calls them. But he knows they are not old times; they are altered times. Doubtless he thinks that for him they are changed for the better; that he is leaving me in a stationary position, while he has advanced. At any rate, I have noticed that those things I continue to enjoy, or think I enjoy, are beginning to bore him. If I speak of a new play on the boards he will turn the subject to the smart sayings of his little Jim. Then, too, he has become absorbed in piling up money for his wife and children after he has gone. He says it is awful to think of leaving them without support. It seems to me that in getting married he gave up all the fun there is in life to make a slave of himself.

Sometimes I wonder whether if Jim and I had grown old as bachelors we would have maintained the same interest in each other. I fear not. Men develop on different lines. Some men don't develop at all. At any rate, I find that association with any one does not interest me as it once did. I wonder if I will some day regret not having put my head in one of these pestiferous matrimonial nooses.

CHURCH RUN BY BOYS ONE SUNDAY

A Boys' Day was celebrated at the First Presbyterian church Sunday. At the morning service Rev. G. A. White preached on the text, "Give Ye Them to Eat," and emphasized the responsibility of the older people in caring for the moral and spiritual needs of the young people, as well as for their physical condition.

In the evening the services were conducted by a group of boys from the Oakland Y. M. C. A. The choir was made up of big and little boys, the organist was a boy, and all the speakers were boys. Erroll O'Hara played a violin solo, and a boys' orchestra played several numbers.

A large crowd filled the church. Next Sunday will be celebrated as Girls' Sunday. There will be a similar program by the girls. Speakers from Oakland will be present again.

POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL AT THE MACDONOUGH

A very novel and much talked about play that has stirred the emotions of thousands of theater-goers is "The Poor Little Rich Girl," which Klaw and Erlanger bring to the Macdonough theater, Oakland, for the entire week of Dec. 14, with three matinees—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. It was written by Eleanor Gates, a former Californian of magazine fiction fame, and has been acclaimed one of the most impressive and significant contributions to the American stage. It is above all else a play of supreme appeal to men and women, and is not, as the unthinking may believe, merely of interest to little folks.

"The Poor Little Rich Girl" goes deep into the parental folly of entrusting the care of children to strangers, nurses and governesses, who may be more intent upon their own comfort and pleasure than the welfare of the helpless charges. It is a rebuke to such parents who practically ignore their children to pursue the "society bug," or who permit money-making to blind them to domestic duties.

Among the thirty members of the company are Leonie Dana, Ella Rock, Viola Fortescue, Helen Gurney, Suzanne Rowe, Margaret Houck, Nellie Preston, Horace Mitchell, J. Palmer Collins, Eric Jewett, Harry Linkey, James Bryson, Jos. A. Bingham, Al Grady, A. Alphonse and others long identified with the success of the play.

David Warfield in "The Auctioneer" comes to the Macdonough theater for one week opening Monday evening, Dec. 21, with matinees on Friday and Saturday.

An appropriate present for sweetheart or friend would be a copper plate and fifty cards from Kennon's, 516 Macdonald ave. 105-tf

MINERS RETURNING TO WORK; MAY END PROBE TOMORROW

DENVER, Dec. 14.—Two hundred union miners throughout the state have secured employment since the strike was called off last week, according to an estimate tonay by John Lawson, Colorado member of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America. Lawson expalined, however, that the organization has not complete reports upon which to determine the number with accuracy.

After ordering all members of the organization to apply for work at the mines, the statement promises that "the organization will endeavor to take care of blacklisted members to the best of its ability."

E. L. Doyle, secretary-treasurer of District No. 15, United Mine Workers of America, resumed his testimony before the federal commission on industrial relations at the opening today of the third week of inquiry into the Colorado industrial situation.

The commission has tentatively decided to close the hearing Wednesday. Many witnesses, scheduled to testify several days ago, have not yet been heard, however, and the sessions may continue throughout the present week.

STATE TO TAKE OVER MILLION ACRES FOR UNEMPLOYED IF LEGISLATURE O. K'S BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—The members of the State Conservation Commission have decided to recommend to Governor Johnson a plan to place under cultivation 1,000,000 or more acres of desert alnd in the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial. This land is part of a 3,000,000 acre tract held by the government.

Under the plan considered at a meeting of the commission today, a recommendation will be made to the Legislature that this land be secured from the federal government under the terms of the Carey act.

The land will be entireyl under state supervision until it is turned over to the settler, when he will become the sole owner without being subject to any incumbrances.

Governor Johnson has expressed himself as heartily in favor of the proposed undertaking.

Surveys have already been made and the selection of the land is being conducted to form the million acres which will be under the state's control.

REPORT SHOWS SURPLUS OF $3,569,545 IN 1914 FOR U. S. POSTAL DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Postmaster General Burleson's report, showing that the department is on a self-sustaining basis for the first time since its organization by Benjamin Franklin, was submitted today.

Burleson figures that there will be a surplus of $3,569,545 for the fiscal year of 1914.

The report asks for early action toward government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines in Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico; transfer of the Alaska cable for war to postoffice department; substitution of the contract system for salaried rural carrier service to eliminate a $4,000,000 annual loss; raising maximum balance acceptance at postal banks from $500 to $2000; readjustment of postmasters' salaries on basis of changes in business handled due to parcel post development, raising of second class rates on weekly publications, excepting newspapers, from one to two cents per pound.

Of the parcel post the report says: "The department's field of service has expanded at a phenomenal rate. Despite the decrease in rates Jan. 1, 1914, expenses have been kept within the revenue."

PRETTY GIRLS AND MUSIC FEATURES AT PANTAGES

Musical comedy and pretty girls will have their inning at the Oakland Pantages theater on the new bill beginning Sunday matinee, when Frances Clare and Guy Rawson make their appearance in "Yesterdays," their latest offering for vaudeville.

With them they are bringing eight pretty girls to assist in the playlet and in the singing and dancing numbers. There is a second stellar feature in the initial Oakland presentation of "The Good Shepard of Maye," a play of intense heart interest. Celtic wit and humor and singing of Irish songs by Charlie Reilly and company.

The clever son of Chas. Niemeyer, superintendent of the Pantages theater, is Joseph Niemeyer, who was the featured comedian of "Miss Nobody of Starland," "The Prince of Tonight," and other notable productions. Arthur Whitlaw tells Celtic stories and sings Irish songs; Roy and Anna Harrah are society skaters, presenting ball room dancing on roller skates. The New Orleans ragtime band provide a world of fun with their music and whirlwind dancing; Ethel Myers, a singer of ballads and first run comedy motion pictures, completes the bill.

FUGITIVE SEEN IN S. F., REPORT

P. ANGELINI MATTEO LOCATED AGAIN—STILL AT LARGE.

Peter Angelini Matteo, the rapid traveling young Italian, who killed John Ducca on the night of November 30, was seen in San Francisco last week by Guglielmo Girotti, who lives near Grand Canyon Park, according to the latter's statement to the police.

Girotti declares he saw the fugitive at the corner of Broadway and Kearny. He says Matteo wore a blue suit, brown Fedora hat, tan shoes and was clean shaven. The police were notified. This makes the 67th time Matteo has been seen since the shooting.

MANY ESCAPE DEATH IN FIRE

OAKLAND, Dec. 14.—Risking their lives, a corps of nurses bravely rescued 18 men and women patients from the sanatorium of Dr. C. G. Ball in the foothills back of Piedmont yesterday afternoon, when the structure burned to the ground. Miss G. Monschein, a nurse, was the last one to leave the building. A charred timber struck her on the head, painfully cutting her scalp. Miss Monschein, Miss A. Cooper and Mrs. Geo. Cowdry, wife of the manager, carried out nine patients, who were too weak to walk.

A defective flue is supposed to have caused the blaze on the third floor. The building was owned by F. C. Havens and was worth $20,000. It was a total loss.

MAPLE BRITTLE

Some nations were fighting fiercely.

"Why are you fighting so?" inquired the bystanders, moved to curiosity.

"To save civilization!" replied the nations severally.

Here a draggled figure rose from the mire under the feet of the combatants and limped lamely away.

"And who are you?" asked the bystanders, with a disposition to get to the bottom of the matter.

"Don't speak to me—I'm civilization!" the figure made answer, somewhat pettishly.—New York Evening Post.

PUMPKIN PIE

Cut up a pumpkin of a size that corresponds to your needs. Let it cook until perfectly soft. Drain and mash until it is smooth. Beat together four eggs and two cups of sugar, and add these to the pumpkin. Put into the mixture a pinch of salt, one teaspoonful each cinnamon, grated nutmeg, and ginger. Scald the milk and add to this mixture while warm. Beat all together. Pour in a dash of brandy. Have two medium size plates lined with paste. Fill with the mixture and bake until firm. This usually requires from thirty to forty minutes. Serve ice cold.

You can prevent a steamed pudding from becoming heavy by putting a cloth over the steamer before placing the lid on. This prevents the moisture from settling and making the pudding soggy.

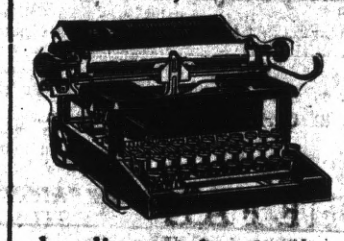
Pen Paralysis!

Have you got it?

NO, we do not mean merely paralysis of the fingers. We mean another kind of paralysis far more serious; the kind that paralyzes the pen writer—not sometimes but always.

Pen writing in this age means needless time waste, needless labor waste, needless fatigue. Every one who continues to write with the pen in this day of the typewriter is placing himself under a heavy time and labor handicap, a handicap which means partial paralysis of all his energies.



The cure for pen paralysis, the new and certain cure, is the December 5 the Palo Alto and Woodland teams met upon the Stanford turf to decide the rugby championship of the northern section of the C. I. F., the game ending in a 3 to 3 tie, with Palo Alto having the shade in the day's going. The teams met at Woodland last Saturday, where they played to a scoreless tie, the edge of the play favoring Woodland. Now it is understood that what is hoped wil lbe the final game is to be staged at Recreation Park next Saturday.

In the meantime Pomona, the champion of the southern section of the C. I. F., is waiting for the development of a winner in the northern league.

If another tie game results it is rather a difficult problem to predict just what will happen. Pomona, tiring of delays, may claim the championship by default, or Palo Alto and Woodland may disband their teams for the season and grant the south a victory.

CHAMP DEMANDS POUND OF FLESH

Packey McFarland and Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, are quarreling about the weights for a ten-round match in New York. Packey is willing to make 136 pounds at 3 o'clock, but Welsh says he must make 135. Welsh claims he will then be giving McFarland a big advantage, figuring that Packey could pick up six pounds between 3 o'clock and 10 o'clock at night when they would enter the ring, while Welsh would go into the ring under 127 pounds.

PITCHER JONES ABSENT; NO GAME

Cheek's Outlaws and the Winehaven Calwas missed a good chance to play the first of their post-season series of three games Sunday. The day was perfect and the grounds were in fair condition, but the Outlaws would have been compelled to play without the services of Pitcher Jones so the game was postponed.

RICHMOND IN REVIEW

YOU CAN'T blame Frank Greco.
ANY fellow
THAT EVER bought
A MARRIAGE license
AND prepared
TO BRAVELY face
THE preacher
KNOWS JUST how it is.
FRANK bought
A DOUBLE harness permit
LAST Saturday,
AND IT LOOKED so darned fine
TO SEE HIS name there
Along with HERS,
THAT it's no wonder
WHEN HE picked up the shoes
HE GOT 'em mixed,
AND GAVE the wrong pairs
TO THE rgiht women.
FRANK HAD cardboard tags
WITH NAMES written on 'em,
TIED TO EACH pair of shoes,
BUT some way,
Saturday
EVERY TIME he looked
AT ONE of those
ORDINARILY plain tags
THEY looked like valentines
WITH LITTLE cupids
FLYING around
AND LITTLE birds twittering
TO EACH other,
AND ON every one
THE ONLY name
THAT HE could see
WAS "ROSIE."
IT WAS the same way
WITH PAT O'NEIL,
WHO recently
COMMITTED matrimony.
ONLY Pat,
THE FOXY Irish aid,
SAW visions of
FINE biscuits, too,
AN DPIES that melt
IN YOUR mouth,
FOR HE looked around
UNTIL he captured
THE BEST cook
THAT EVER fried a spud.
AND IF Napoleon Garabaldi,
WHO MANS the guns
AT THE Gold Mine
DURING THE dreary hours
BETWEEN midnight
AND morning,
DOESN'T quit
BURNING the toast
FOR THE editor
OF THE nut column,
THE editor
IS GOING to take a tip
FROM PAT O'Neil
AND BUY a marriage license.
BUT WE'LL have to wait
UNTIL THEY mark 'em down
TO 98 cents.
THE OFFICE boy
HAS exhibited
ALARMING symptoms
Himself.
FOR AWHILE we thought
IT WAS the telephone girl,
BUT NOW we're wise to him.
HE ASKED us to rebuke
IN THE nut column
THE HIGH school girls
ON THE street cars,
WHO READ his paper,
AND incidentally
HE SAID we might
SLIP his name
INTO the column.
IT SEEMS last Wednesday
HE WAS reading
THAT PART of a paper
THAT TELLS what is the rage
IN WOMEN'S HATS and clothes,
AND ALSO has
A DEPARTMENT by
LAURA LEAN Jibbey
ON LOVE problems.
AND ON the back
OF THE sheet
WAS A LOT of baseball dope
ON THE sporting page,
AND THE girls didn't have
THE PRICE of a paper.
SO THEY turned around
AND unbeknowast to him
WERE READING the baseball dope
ON ONE side,
WHILE HE was reading
THE LOVE problems
ON THE other.
AND SUDDENLY he folded down
THE paper
AND THEY were staring at him.
(INSERT)
ONE OF THEM.
WHICH of course
EMBARRASSED him considerably,
SO THAT HIS ears turned red.
AND yesterday
THEY STARED at him again
WHEN HE was reading
THE funny page.
HE SURE IS mad about it.
WE WERE about to grant
HIS request
AND SAY something
IN the column
ABOUT it,
BUT WILLYUM Stewart,
WHO RUNS the high school,
I believe,
ASKED US not to.
SO we won't.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES BY SCOOP

FINAL STUDENT BODY MEETING OF 1914 HELD

The last student body meeting of the year, was held yesterday afternoon. The session was devoted to the adopting of a new policy in handling the dressing rooms of the gymnasium. In the future all students who go out for athletics will be supplied with a high grade towel, freshly laundered, to be used after showers. By this method the students will receive the maximum benefit from athletics.

The faculty appointive office of "property man" was also created. A reasonable salary will be attached to this job, and the duties of the "man" will be to take care of towels, basketballs, footballs, and all athletic paraphernalia, as well as the team suits of the digerent activities. By the close of the present term nearly $500 worth of property has been amassed by the students, and the care of it will make the creating of a paid appointive job necessary.

The announcement was made that beginning with the spring term athletics will be elective ,but once entered into cannot be dropped at the will of the student. Beginning next August, an athletic instructor will be added to the faculty, and will have charge of all entries in any activity.

At the close of the assembly a farewell address was given by retiring President Philip Angell.

SPECIAL DESIGNS IN SCHOOL PINS RECEIVED

Four excellent school pin designs were yesterday received from J. A. Morgan, a designing jeweler from San Francisco, who made a visit to the school. One of the designs won great favor with the pin committee members. It is a nugget backed pin with the name Richmond spelled on a spherical band across the front. The year numeral is made prominent.

The four selected pins will be submitted to the students this week.

ABATEMENT ACT WINS IN U. S. RULING

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—Federal Judge Van Fleet declared today that it is not within the province of the Federal Court to issue a restraining order preventing Chief of Police White from enforcing the redlight abatement act tomorrow. He declared that whether or not the law is constitutional should be decided through a suit entered in the Superior Court.

Free to act without any hindrance of law, it is probable that Chief of Police White will makes a series of raids tomorrow on houses in the redlight district.

Judge Van Fleet's ruling was made in the case of Woo Sam, 45 Bartlett alley, who, through his attorney, Wm. Hoff Cook, asked for a restraining order preventing Chief of Police White to close his place, declaring he would be denied the $3000 monthly revenue. The case was set for argument Jan. 4.

The abatement law goes into effect Friday at 10:20 p. m.

Clara Kimball Young in "Lola" at the Richmond Theater Tomorrow

Hobart Bosworth has builded for himself a wonderful reputation for strong plays, teeming with vigorous characters, who do great things. To his already oing list of successes, he has added "The Country Mouse," which will close a two-day run at the Richmond theater this evening.

Differing from some of his other plays in many ways, the scenario is replete with dramatic moments, and is woven around the transformation of character from a meek little woman, the country mouse, who becomes a brilliant social leader in a twinkling of an eye, because circumstances and emotions within her open the way.

Politics, high finance, love and a generous dash of the most laughable comedy art cleverly intermingled in a plot which is absorbing in interest from the opening of the first scene to the end of the fourth reel.

Another reason for the success of the latest Bosworth play is the cast of actors which portray the characters. Hobart Bosworth takes the part of Billy Balderson, who is the object of the hero worship and later the victim of an artful plan for the retaining o faffections, by his wife, the country mouse. The latter part is played by Adele Farrington, a charming new star added to the Bosworth company.

Tomorrow and Thursday Clara Kimbal Young in "Lola."
